Training and Placement Cell MBIT organized mock test and interviews for students of 7th Semester of both the branches of CE and IT. It was organized to help students to prepare for online placements this year.

The aim was to let the students experience the placement procedure so that they get an idea on how online placements will be conducted during COVID-19 pandemic situation and in which areas they need to work on. About 70 students participated in this activity. Following activities were part of this event:

1. Aptitude Test
2. Technical Test
3. Resume Building
4. Technical Interview
5. HR Interview

The students were asked to prepare with the following subjects:

C, C++, Java, Data Structure, Data Base Management System and Operating System.

After the mock tests and interviews the students were clear with the placement procedure and it's experience and they were benefited by this approach. This also got their doubts cleared regarding their placements and preparations. These sessions were very useful for the students as they were clear with the online placement process. An overall positive response was received from the students side.
